I am pleased to present the Annual Progress Report of the HOPE Worldwide-Pakistan (HOPE) for fiscal year 2016-2017. This report provides a summary of the HOPE's accomplishments in fulfilling its commitments of raising voice for the protection of human rights.

HOPE maintains a commitment to service excellence and the application of best practices in the protection and promotion of human rights in New Zealand, Thailand and Pakistan. HOPE has adopted proactive approaches to raise voice against all forms of discrimination against women, children, refugees which has resulted in giving great strength and positive light of hope to the asylum seekers in Bangkok, the elimination of child detention and struggle towards protection of right to life with dignity of women in the society. This has allowed the HOPE team to devote more resources to education and promotion efforts.

HOPE intended to create a forum for policy makers to learn about the innovations and consider opportunities for up scaling and incorporating them into policy by bringing together multi-sectoral groups around common goals so that they may collectively generate, implement and replicate innovations directed by the society.

Stakeholder engagement, collaboration and capacity building among partners and staff continue to improve the HOPE's ability to address existing and emerging human rights issues.

My sincere thanks go to the entire team, staff, volunteers, management and targeted audiences for their commitment and hard work to ensure the best possible service to the public throughout this period.

2.1 Bangkok Asylum Seeker Support Programme

In 2013, number of families migrated from Pakistan to Thailand as refugee and seeking asylum. But they became victims of unnecessary detention and stranded hence struggled for safe place to live with their families in peace and harmony. A group of committed people joined hands and initiated a project of Bangkok asylum seeker support programme. Dr. Khurram Malik made visits to Thailand to access the situation of these refugees and further finding ways to provide support to these refugees and continued to help refugees and raise voice against injustice and human rights violation. During his visits he met with these refugees along with other key actors and organizations related to support and help refugees in providing asylum. He met with officials of UNHCR and filed the cases for seeking their support and help. He also met with Thai government officials, ministries and local churches, (Pastor Thoedsak Ajkraasawart from Jaisman Church Bangkok) came forward and joined hands for supporting distressed families those already in Bangkok seeking asylum. Alongside he is also having detail meetings with the families to assess their immediate needs like food, shelter, medicine and other necessacities of life.

There are hundreds of thousands of asylum seekers of mainly from Burma, Cambodia, Laos and Vietnam but Pakistani asylum seekers who are hundreds in number have sought for asylum and facing extremely hardships and their basic Human rights been violated and lost their dignity.

These people are stranded and their applications for refugee status is under process and are facing lot of hardships like no legal recognition, no right to work, fear of being arrested, no education, no medical treatment rights and malnutrition. On 18th January 2017, HOPE has organized silent protest in Auckland city in front of Thailand consulate. This could help by raising awareness among local community about Human Rights violation and how people are being treated in Thailand. Total 25 numbers of participants were gathered by holding play cards claiming children’s rights and claiming to stop Human Rights violations.

Say No To Child Detention: Immigration detention is causing life-long damage on their mental and physical well being. These children need support and should be protected from further stress, so their mental and physical health could be improved and Children should achieve their potential.

“Children are Angels they do not deserve detention”

Initially, HOPE has started provision of support to 10 families in Bangkok comprised of 10 male adults, 10 female adults, 9 boys and 6 girls. While carrying out the need assessment of these families through interviews and observation find out of their immediate needs of shelter, food and medicines. Furthermore, a package of the food and non-food items is finalized in consultation with the families consisting of flour, tea, edible oil, rice, lentils, milk, sugar, soap and water bottles. Package of these items for 15 days is provided to the 10 families by HOPE Worldwide by its own resources and much appreciated by the receiving families.

Expressions of Beneficiaries:

“We are happy for food given from HOPE organization in very difficult situation as we have no food in our house” (Haroon)

“There was little food available in my house and this time when HOPE NGO came to my house and gave us food, lintels, milk, flour and rice. We ate and thanks.” (Babar)

We celebrated International Human Rights Day this year and raised voice for the rights of refugees and asylum seeking in Thailand. The said event is organized in Thailand with six families seeking asylum. Little children and individuals were holding play cards seeking and requesting people to stand up for their rights. We collectively acknowledged the hardships and encouraged and keep patience. HOPE stood alongside with these families and ensured their voice could be raised and organization is seeking possible opportunities to protect their rights by standing against injustice.

- To inform, motivate and empower participants to develop human rights education activities;
- To explore human rights education as an educational concept at community and youth group level and beyond;

Purpose of this programme is to equip people to have a better understanding of Country's system and enjoyment of their rights for safer and happier assimilation in the country. By Equipping people with knowledge and tools for their rights and responsibilities would lead them towards Equal World and to satisfying lives which would improve their self-esteem and promote equality. HOPE took initiative by reaching out newly migrated family where husband and wife have minimal or no understanding of English. This senior couple who recently migrated to the country and have no job and activity so they can keep themselves occupied . The HOPE team started to meet this couple on regular basis by giving them hope and encouragement by taking them out and having meetings. The HOPE team has provided basic cell phone with a sim card so they could communicate with their family and approachable to others. Our initial discussions and meetings involved building their confidence and finding ways to keep themselves occupied and feel included within their community. With the help of volunteers we started to provide weekly ride to church where they meet other families to engage with. After having such an extensive efforts the expressions of the target family were:

Human Rights Education Program

2.8 Hunger Watch Programme

HOPE in collaboration with Bread & Butter is running a Hunger Watch Programme in Auckland, New Zealand. The objective of this initiative is to fulfill the food needs of those immigrant families who are facing difficulties in fulfilling their dietary needs due to various reasons.

HOPE team collects food and bread etc. from Bread & Butter and distribute to those who struggle to put on table. With both social and environmental benefits, this intervention is a 'win-win'. While executing this project HOPE has also integrated this initiative with its Human Rights Education programme.

In this way both dietary and educational needs and fulfilling to the target audiences amicably. This initiative can also be seen as in the light and theme of Salvation Army sought to bring salvation to the poor, destitute and hungry by meeting both their "physical and spiritual needs".

2.9: Psycho-Social Support Programme

HOPE's new project is geared towards supporting people seeking refuge in Thailand who are currently mainly victims of religious persecution from Pakistan. There is currently a very inadequate system in Thailand to support these refugees which leads them to become victimised further. We aim to support these individuals and families to help them to achieve a greater level of stability and wellbeing. HOPE intends to launch its 'Social Integration and Support Program' in collaboration with New Beginnings Therapy (counselling and therapy services; www.newbeginningstherapy.co.nz) to support these individuals. This program would help individuals and families to improve their wellbeing, understanding and help them to manage and resume their normal lives. Volunteers will go through a training program in order to get the basic skills required to be able to carry out support for our people in crisis by qualified therapists.

3. CONCLUSION

HOPE is progressing ahead focusing on its mission statement of providing support to most disadvantaged, marginalized and vulnerable groups in the society to come up with their latent potential for social and economic empowerment. HOPE is dedicated to develop skills and mobilize people to take action towards the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDG).
