Director's Message

"Every drop has its unique value"

I am honored to share and present the annual report of the charity (HOPE) HUMANITARIAN ORGANISATION FOR POVERTY ERADICATION.

The organisation has been working for the humanitarian cause through a network of dedicated professionals and volunteers from within New Zealand and internationally.

I would like to take this opportunity to express my gratitude for the efforts that the whole team has put into achieve the organisational goals and objectives and to bring about significant change in our communities.

In-spite of the hardships and immense difficulties faced in accumulation of resources and services delivery the dedication and the passion to help the needy has given us outstanding results and never lasting motivation.

Social services are multidimensional and require an integrated approach to help the community and the people in need. HOPE has been inspirational in its approach with valuable contributions to the community both at home as well as abroad, reaching out to the marginalized and underprivileged communities.

I want to present this report for the viewership of people both locally and internationally, to reflect upon our contributions towards the society and the communities, while addressing the current needs and also taking into consideration the future prospects. The organization would be in the process of expanding its services delivery during the coming year with a contextualised approach to cater for the needs in education sector, specifically in the context of Aotearoa New Zealand .

Our organization aims to be part of the new Government program for improvement of the public sector in education and health services.

Venturing in to new sectors such as public health, migration, and food security will strengthen our capacities to respond to the needs in effective manner and bring efficiency and an extended outreach to help the people in need.

The focus of the organisation for the coming year and my resolve for the next year, would be to strengthen the capacity of the organization further and to strive towards achieving excellence in effective "services delivery" through strategic decision making and building on our strengths. I encourage our members, volunteers and all social workers involved within HOPE to reflect upon their valuable contributions they have made and the positive results obtained during the past and to build upon their strengths and capacities to serve the communities in need with more dedication and commitment .

Looking back at the visible changes that we have achieved through our efforts, mostly through self-help and indigenous contributions, I feel confident that the we will be able to serve the community in better way, through our committed members and volunteers. I would like to re- affirm my resolve for a peaceful and productive society where every individual can realise his/her true potential and contribute to the society in a positive and productive manner.

"Together, we can make a visible change"

Aligning with United Nations Sustainable Development Goals

HOPE's work has always been strategically aligned to the 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) set out by the United Nations (UN). The global agenda for development aims to end poverty, protect the planet and ensure prosperity for all by 2030.

HOPE in its work strives to bring about the positive change envisioned in the SDGs. Most of HOPE's development and humanitarian relief programs are multidimensional. Our focus areas are designed to work across sectors and contribute to multiple SDGs simultaneously.

HOPE strives to end poverty through all its activities, contributing to SDG 1 by delivering a range of projects, undertaking both the indicators and structural causes of poverty.

We deliver necessary food aid and implement food security projects aiming to contribute to SDG 2; to try and lessen the amount of people living with hunger.

We support medical facilities; medical care and hospitals, extending healthcare services to ensure healthy lives for all, as per SDG 3. We assist children to have quality education in alignment with SDG 4, ensuring inclusive and equitable schooling for all. To help achieve SDG 5, we make sure that all our projects are designed to cater for the particular needs of women and girls so that we can achieve gender equality and empowerment.

As per SDG 17, we work with many institutional and local partners to bring in a more coordinated and revitalized global partnership for sustainable development. We work to empower local communities through inclusive and participatory methods, making sure that our beneficiaries are directly involved in creating and implementing projects. We aim to build people's capacity so they can achieve a life of dignity, gender equality, food and income security, safety, and resilience to climate change and natural disasters.

PROGRAMS AND ACTIVITIES IN NEW ZEALAND

Food Watch Program

Food Watch Program and Equip with Knowledge and tools programs based in New Zealand . We use local resources and network with local organisations and businesses by using their resources to support families. HOPE in collaboration with Bread & Butter is running a Food Watch Programme in Auckland, New Zealand.

The objective of this initiative is to fulfil the food needs to those families who are facing difficulties in meeting their dietary needs for various reasons.

The HOPE team collects food and bread etc. from "Bread & Butter" and distributes to those who struggle to put food on the table. With both social and environmental benefits, this intervention is a 'win-win'. We run this program at a very minimum cost because of huge support from volunteers .

During this financial year we have supported more than 200 families and individuals in South Auckland and more than 500 families throughout the year in West Auckland with more than 5000 loaves of bread and other food items. These donated food items were donated to the community members who have reached out to us directly through social media (Facebook or messenger) , word of mouth and many that have been referred through community organizations and social workers.

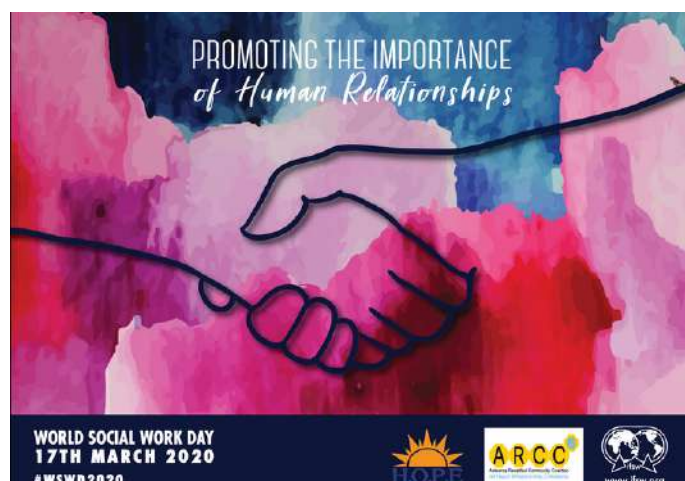

World Social Work Day-2020

Social Workers provide their services in different settings and in order to achieve people's goals, they help and support people to build and develop their skills. Social Workers provide support, care and advise people to deal with their social problems and help them make decisions.

World Social Work Day 2020 was organised for celebration on 17th March 2020. This year's theme for World Social Work Day was "Promoting the importance of human relationships". Putting people first ahead of yourself, is what we directly connect with in social work. Placing people first whilst looking at the bigger picture.

Social Workers from diverse backgrounds attended the event and shared their ideas. Social Workers working in the field of elderly, mental health, refugees and asylum seekers, addiction and homeless issues and health professionals, humanitarian aid workers also attended the event. We at HOPE with the support of Aotearoa Resettled Community Coalition showed our great appreciation to all Social Workers for offering and delivering their outstanding services for the community. We highly admire their love, compassion, empathy and commitment to the Social Work Profession. Certificates of recognition were given out to all social workers who attended the event.

Social Workers from Anglican Trust For Women & Children , Asylum Seekers Support Trust, The Fono and Shanti Niwas Charitable Trust received their certificates of recognition.

Women leaders emphasised that we should respect each other's rights and we should give the equal rights to women as well as they are equal human being.

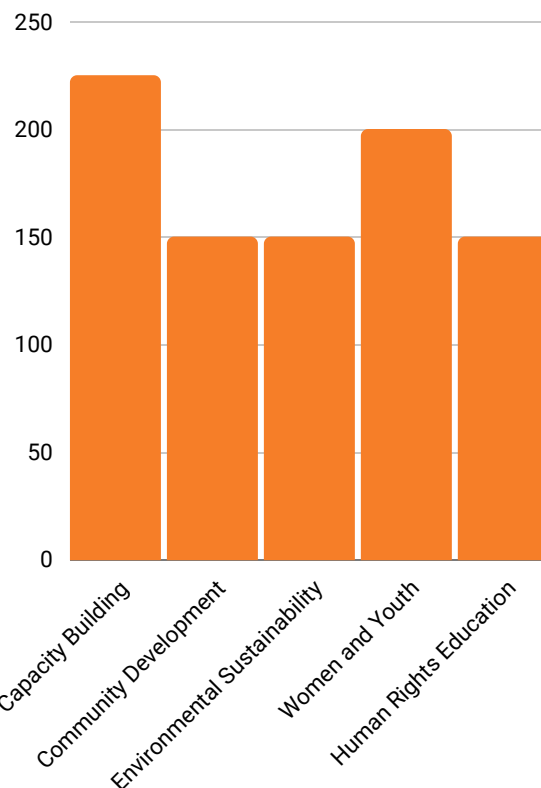

Women Empowerment Program

Gender Equality and women empowerment is a cross cutting theme in all our interventions. To ensure gender inclusion and women empowerment the HOPE team of volunteers in Pakistan run Workshops, Seminar and awareness sessions at grass root level by involving volunteers from the community. 250-300 women and youth have benefited from different workshops and seminars run in different urban and rural areas of Pakistan.

Human Rights Education (HRE) Program been delivered at community level in different cities. The program focused to empowering young people and seeks to build stronger just and fair societies. At HOPE we believe that Human Rights Education and awareness is very important and as an organisation, we would like to address this matter consistently.

We projected and successfully raised awareness through organising workshops/training sessions for Human Rights awareness and educating the masses and women in specific in their civil and basic Human rights. .. More than 300 youth from three cities of Faisalabad, Lahore and Rawalpindi were involved in the seminars and attended Human Rights awareness Sessions.

Resilience and Disaster Risk Reduction

HOPE has been focusing on increasing resilience among the local communities as well as school children in selected areas. For this, initiatives such as raising awareness regarding an early warning system, hazard vulnerability and capacity assessment were implemented with the local communities. Similarly, simulation exercises with school children also held in case of an earthquake, and the need of any first aid etc.

Throughout this financial year 500 school children and over 2000 community members are covered in the project area. Similarly, another 500 school children and 1500 community members were planned to be covered but due to financial constraints and lack of volunteers, we could not continue with that intention.

Case Study

A young refugee woman (pregnant) Mrs. Julia (not real name) who has been brutally beaten and lost twins in her womb. She escaped from her homeland and now seeking refuge in Bangkok. As a result of this traumatic incident which has potentially caused physical, emotional, spiritual, or psychological harm, she has been experiencing great distress. She has felt threatened, anxious, scared or frightened as a result and has a fear of losing her life and her family.

We have been providing support to this person to recover from the traumatic event and regain emotional and mental stability to have a happier and healthier life. We have helped her to transform specific (traumatic) negative events into more positive ones.

We also encouraged and engaged her to adopt Self Management Strategies such as self-soothing and mindfulness, which are helpful to ground a person and bring them back to reality after a flashback. Our trained volunteers reached out to Julia ,to support her and helped her to overcome obstacles and barriers. Here are the steps as to how cognitive restructuring and re-framing has been used into six simple steps that helped Julia to overcome her anxiety and fear.

She is in a safer environment, receiving ongoing support such as food , shelter and ongoing social connection.

Reframing Narrative
